“The World of the Hammered Dulcimer” written by Viktória Herencsár has just been published in English.

Viktória Herencsár’s book acquaints the reader with this special, beautiful and mysterious instrument. It introduces the history and the types of dulcimer all over the world, the ways of playing it, the more significant instrument making workshops, its professional and musical bibliography, the symbols of score notations for dulcimer, as well as the state of its education both in Hungary and abroad.

30 Years of the Cimbalom World Association (CWA)

This book presents the 30 years of the Association's activities and successes, and the results of international cooperation. I hope that this will inspire my fellow musicians and the members of the Association, and give lay people a picture of a world of music that raises awareness of cimbalom culture.
